

FAREWELL.

Rev. J. N. Field Says it to His Church and Congregation Sunday.

HIS WORK FINISHED HERE.

Two Excellent Sermons Left With Canton Hearers Yesterday—The church crowded at the Evening Service—Leaves For Buffalo Thursday.

At the Baptist church yesterday, Rev. J. N. Field held the last Sunday service he will hold in Canton.

At the morning service, fully 600 people were present, and paid marked attention to the able discourse delivered by Rev. Field. The sermon was to the members of his church, and the text from 2 Cor. 13, 11: "Finally, brethren, farewell; be perfect; be of good comfort; be of one mind and live in peace; and the God of love and of peace shall be with you."

The speaker described the character of Paul, author of the text and showed how, after a life of effort, Paul sums up the entire gospel in the words of the text. He then applied the various portions of the text to the congregation, before him, and feelingly referred to the relations sustained by him to them for the past six years. He advised them, in the selection of a new pastor, not to expect a perfect man—an angel. "You did not find an angel in me," declared he, "unless a fallen one." The speaker spoke tenderly of the 140 members whom he had buried during his pastorate, and urged his old congregation to remain true to the faith, till death called them. At the conclusion of the sermon, he asked all who had joined the church during his pastorate, to rise, and half the congregation arose.

The church, at the evening service, was packed, and hundreds were unable to gain entrance to hear Rev. Field preach his last sermon on "How to Make the Most of Life." The text was from the last two verses of the last chapter of Ecclesiastes.

The speaker said in part: "Life is given to us as a sacred trust, and we should at all times consider that it should not be at any time laid away. Life is brief, but oh, how important! It is not anything that can be measured by duration, for the oak outlives generations of men, but who would exchange a life for an oak? Life is the first period in an eternal existence, and is shaping and guiding all the eternity to come."

The speaker then gave the means to live right; by keeping the object and aim of life constantly in view declaring the chief end of man is to glorify God that he may enjoy him forever by keeping out of bad company; by fearing God and keeping his commandments by avoiding procrastination, and remembering God shall judge every work, whether it be good, or whether it be bad.

He then spoke to the citizens at large and said he would never forget Canton, for he had spent some of the happiest days of his life here. He feelingly referred to the pleasant relations he had always enjoyed with Cantonians, and closed with an appeal to all to remember that they shall be judged as to how they heard, as well as to how they preached. At the conclusion of his sermon, many in the audience were in tears.

Rev. Field then announced he would appear here in public for the last time on Wednesday evening, leaving for Buffalo on the Valley, Thursday at 12:30.

HENRY COCK DEAD.

Formerly Prominent in Public Life Here—Others Who Have Departed From This World.

Henry Cock died last night at 10 o'clock of a complication of diseases, in the seventy-ninth year of his age. Deceased leaves, besides his son, Chas. S., three brothers, and four sisters, as follows: Dr. George B. Cock, of Cassville street; Chas. C., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; John M., now of Boulder, Col.; the Misses Elizabeth and Anne, of West Fourth street; Mrs. C. A. Thurston, of Woodland avenue, and Mrs. Mary A. Swiney, of Rathmelton county, Donegal, Ireland.

Mr. Cock was born in Jefferson county, Ohio, but lived the greater part of his life in Stark county. He was once school examiner; principal of the public schools of Canton; was three times elected county auditor; was deputy county treasurer during the terms of Ira M. Allen, W. A. Feather, and George W. Lawrence; and for several years city civil engineer; and for a few years was in the railway mail service. Mr. Cock was a natural mathematician, and his ability in this direction was generally recognized. He was a member of the Masonic order, and at one time an Odd Fellow.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of Miss Elizabeth Cook, No. 160 West Fourth street.

SOMETHING IS WRONG

If the Pupil Does Not Love the Teacher, Says Judge Draper.

EDUCATIONAL TALKS.

A Large Crowd at the Teacher's Institute Today—Good Points For Pedagogue—Judge Draper to Lecture Tonight on the Alabama Claims.

Up to noon Tuesday, 157 school teachers had registered at the institute. The crowd was so large that it had to be taken to the assembly room of the central building.

At Monday afternoon's session some good addresses were delivered. Judge Draper opened with a talk on "Educational Progress." He showed the development that has been going on in educational methods and cited the impetus given by great events like the birth of Christ. Mr. Houk again tackled the subject of spelling. He believed in giving the pupils both oral and written tests, and keeping them at work on the spelling books.

After a recess, Judge Draper spoke on "New Education." He thought there was a new spirit abroad, and education must keep pace with the times. The old theory was that the mind was something to be filled up with things. Now it was looked upon as an engine to be controlled. The business of the teacher is to direct this mind. He must study the temperament and provide plans. If the boy does not return to school with enthusiasm, if the pupils do not love their teacher, something is wrong.

TODAY'S MEETING.

This morning, after the opening exercises and the election of G. W. Gilliam, of Massillon, as secretary of the Stark county reading circle, Mr. Houk took up the subject of "Reading." He said our books were all right, but teachers did not know how to teach reading. It was an important matter, and should be looked after.

Judge Draper reviewed the beginning and growth of our public school system. Formerly it was the work of the state to supply the facilities so that all could go to school, now the demand was that all be compelled to go.

Prof. P. T. Stevenson, of Delaware university, talked about higher education, making a plea for college breeding.

The convention then adjourned till this afternoon. This evening Judge Draper will deliver his lecture on the Alabama claims.

USE IT IN TIME.

Cataract starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is, in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected cataract in the head almost invariably precedes cataract, causing an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of cataract will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and often times a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

Down goes the price of baking powder. Materials cost less and manufacturing costs less. To meet these J. Monroe Taylor's Cream Yeast, the best on the market, is the first of the high grade baking powders to come down.

HORTICULTURALISTS.

The August Meeting of the Stark County Society Held Wednesday.

REPORTS ON FRUITS.

Discussions Upon Various Topics of Interest to Growers of Vegetables, Fruits and Flowers—Literary Performers—New Members.

About fifty head of as fine looking Jersey cows as one need wish to look upon, with suitable buildings and all the appliances and appliances for taking care of the product of these cows, tells the story of how Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bast, of Jackson township, were able to give the Stark County Horticultural Society such a grand reception as greeted its faithful members on the 21st day of August, 1895.

The day was "a beauty," and about forty carriages loaded with horticulturalists, baskets and "lasses," were ready for the noon refreshments, no meeting being held before dinner.

At about 1 o'clock the secretary announced the absence of both president and vice-president, when John F. Roth was elected to fill the vacancy. Miss Bessie Bast, daughter of "Mine Host," showed by her manipulation of the keys of the piano, and the pictures on the wall, that the fine farm produced not only the substantial necessities of life, but also accomplishments in art and science as well; she rendered a piano solo in a very pleasing manner. Minutes of the previous meeting were then read and approved.

A committee on membership, consisting of Mrs. Jos. Bast, Wm. Kettinger and P. J. Palmer, was appointed, and the regular order of business taken up.

The committee on orchards report their condition as good as usual, at this time in the year, except pear trees; the pear tree, being more affected with blight this year than usual.

On our way to the meeting this morning, on the Canton and Fulton road, we found many more apples than we expected. In a distance of four miles between here and Canton, nearly every orchard has some apples, while some of them have nearly a full crop, others a half crop. J. F. Roth.

Vineyards.

Your committee beg leave to report vineyards as making a vigorous growth, considering the set-back they received in the spring. My own vines that were not cut off at the ground are making no show of fruit—too near dead.

Stone Fruit.

Specimens of Nectarine, by J. R. Essig. It being the only sample that has ever been on exhibition, your committee feel at a loss to know in what class to place it. But from its appearance, think it a very fine sample, although too green to speak of its quality. S. L. Correll, M. H. Rockhill.

Vegetables.

The committee find a fair display of vegetables on exhibition. Potatoes by C. A. and W. J. Ponting; four varieties; Rural New Yorker, fair sample. Two varieties for name; one the committee would name Queen of the Valley; the other we name Early Sunrise; also sample, Maggie Murphy; fair sample. J. D. Miller shows four samples of following varieties: Rural New Yorker, Sir William, Algoma and a seedling, all good samples. C. Holl, one variety, Crown Jewel, fair sample.

Tomatoes, one variety by J. D. Miller, called California Peach tomato, used mostly for preserving. Also one variety by C. Holl, New Imperial tomato, good sample, sent out by Wm. Henry Maule, of Philadelphia; first this season. C. W. Faust has very good sample Snow Ball Cauliflower. J. D. Miller, Clayton Hall, Committee.

Flower Report.

The display of flowers is fair, above the average, both as to quality and quantity. Mr. C. W. Faust exhibits about twenty varieties of carnations, a large collection of gladioli, four varieties; roses, several varieties of begonia, lantana, fuchsia, geranium, salvia, and snailax; Mrs. W. P. Fox, two bouquets composed of verbena, geranium, phlox, asters, tigridia, cacti, petunia, and gladioli. Mrs. Krider exhibits water lilies, asters, petunia, abutilon, dianthus, and geraniums. Mrs. Hollbaugh exhibits large cluster of hydrangea. Mrs. Kate McDowell, Alfredda Saylor, Mrs. Lena Correll.

Your committee on apples, pears and quinces, find on exhibition by James Bayless, Baldwin, Summer Queen, Ohio Nonpareil, and Sweet Bough apples, all fine samples.

Clayton Hall exhibits a limb containing a cluster of Rambo apples, very nice. Also a plate of Maiden Blush, fair; and one medium Duchess of Oldenburg.

Charity school has a plate of Summer Queen apples, extra large.

D. A. Brancher exhibits a fine plate of Clapps favorite pear. M. Bitzer has a plate of Tyson pear, large size, for that variety. S. H. Rockhill, two Flemish Beauty pears, medium size.

J. K. McDowell exhibits one Bartlett pear, good sample.

Mr. McDowell has also a plate of transcendental crab apple, very nice.

J. R. Essig has a limb containing a cluster of cherry crab apples. H. A. Hollbaugh, U. A. Krider.

Nomenclature of Fruit.

James Bayless has on the table an apple for name; we call it a Newtown Pippin; two varieties we would call seedlings; one we cannot name.

Charity school has one sample we cannot name. S. A. Brancher, one pear, we call the "Tyson," rather small.

George Merwin also has a "Tyson" pear.

M. P. Fox has a pear for name which we call Kellifer.

A sample of berries, by Burton Clay, we call Erie; they are beautiful.

J. K. McDowell has three pears for name—one the Flemish Beauty; the others we cannot name. M. Bitzer.

Query Drawer.

Mr. Hanna asks the cause of so many forest trees dying.

Mr. Faust thinks high temperature and hot winds are mainly responsible. The underbrush being cut away, and the leaves having blown away, the woods are not mulched as they used to be.

M. Hayhurst did not think the causes adduced by Mr. Faust sufficient to account for the usual fatality among forest trees.

Mr. J. L. Stoner thinks some worm or insect is preying on the roots of the trees.

Mr. Faust says the indiscriminate destruction of our forests is making our atmosphere dryer each year, and this not only tends to rob the forest of its former moisture, but also gives better opportunity for the development of insect enemies to fruits and trees.

Clayton Hall desired to correct the impression given out at our June meeting, that "this county would not have more than one-fourth of a crop of apples." Mr. Holl thinks the county will average a half crop.

Mr. J. L. Stoner says you will find apples only on the elevated portions of the county.

Mr. Bitzer stands by the June report and from extensive traveling over the county would not admit more than one-fourth of a crop for the county.

President J. F. Roth voiced the general sentiment of the society by stating that he thought the June report about correct.

Mr. J. L. Stoner and Mr. Faust urged the proper trimming of fruit trees.

Clayton Hall urged the importance of fertilizing the orchard.

Voluntary Performance.

Miss Stella Staever recited "The Farmer," a very practical lecture well delivered. Miss Bessie Bast rendered another piano solo.

Essayist Mrs. S. O. Eggert and Alternate J. K. McDowell were continued for next meeting, and urged to be both prepared.

Mr. Bitzer offered an opportunity for an invitation from some Jackson township farmer to entertain the society some time next year. S. P. Bachtel asked for the May meeting, and is so put down.

President Roth urged a large increase in membership before December, so that we may make a good showing at the meeting of the Stark Horticultural Society to be held at Canton in that month.

Renewals.

Wm. Kettinger, Massillon. J. L. Stoner, New Berlin. S. P. Bachtel, McDonaldsville. New Members—Wm. P. Holl, Massillon; Daniel A. Brancher, McDonaldsville.

The next meeting will be held at Crystal Springs on the third Wednesday in September.

Adjourned.

J. F. Roth, President Pro Tem. S. H. Rockhill, Secretary.
